

877-342-6342

Care and Cleaning of the Diamond Hybrid®

General Care:

Our Hybrid Diamond has a form of amorphous diamond on its upper layer. As such, it is chemically inert and very abrasion resistant.

You can swim, shower, etc. with no undue concern. Be sure to remove your jewelry when engaging in activities that may prove hazardous to its health - i.e. rock climbing or other activities where you are likely to give your jewelry a nice whack or hard scratch.

Cleanings:

One cardinal rule to remember whenever cleaning jewelry - always ensure you clean diamond jewelry individually, even from other diamond jewelry. You do not want to have your diamonds banging together or against other jewelry.

Quick Cleanings:

Simply wipe over the Hybrid Diamond and around your metal portions of the jewelry with a scratch-proof cloth. No rinsing needed.

More Thorough Cleanings:

Use any standard home jewelry cleaner, or you can make your own cleansing solution by simply combining warm water and a bit of hand-dishwashing soap (i.e., Joy, Palmolive, etc.).

Cleanings:

Allow your jewelry to soak in there for a few minutes - the hand dishwashing liquid will help dissolve the grease from body oils, which play a large part in trapping dirt onto your jewelry (esp. rings). With an old toothbrush, gently(!) scrub the jewelry to break up trapped dirt. Be sure to try to get the underside of your stone with the brush if possible. Buildup on the underside of gems is what is responsible for adding a dull grey look to your stone. After that, rinse in water and pat dry.

Professional Cleanings:

Your local jeweler can offer your Hybrid Diamond jewelry a more thorough professional cleaning. They will either steam clean or ultrasound (or both) your jewelry. Neither will cause any problems. They will help in keeping your Hybrid Diamond jewelry at peak brilliance.

If you have other questions on Diamond Hybrid® or need other technical advise, please feel free to contact us via our website at www.diamondhybrid.com.

Diamond Hybrid is our registered trade mark.